HENRY DAVIS DIED SATURDAY

Had Lived in This County During His Long Life.

Henry Davis departed from this life after a residence in Fulton County, Kentucky for more than eighty years. He was born and reared and lived his life on the farm near Rush Creek Church and never knew any other place as home. He died Feb. 23, 1921, and was buried at Rush Creek. He was eighty years old on Jan. 21, 1921. He left surviving him his sons, Senator B. T. Davis of Hickman, Ky., and Dr. Henry A. Davis of Cairo, Ill., and his daughters, Mrs. Maggie Ramsey and Mrs. Virginia Wayne of Clinton, Ky., and Mrs. Mary Lou Siddon, who now resides on the old home place.

He was married on Jan. 3rd, 1823 to Miss Susanna Lutten, who departed this life on Dec. 21, 1917. At the age of eighteen years he volunteered and joined the Confederate Army and was in the battles of Perryville, Stones River, and other campaigns. He came through the dangers of the war without injury and was blessed with rare good health during all of his life. The last year of his life was passed with increasing weakness due to his advanced age, but without pain. He was possessed of his mental faculties and was able to be up until the last. He sat up a short time Saturday morning but said he was too weak to sit up and was assisted back to his bed and was dead.

He joined the Masonic Lodge at the age of 21 years and kept his membership throughout his life. He was buried at Rush Creek by the Masons according to ritual and rites of the lodge. He united with the Methodist Church at Rush Creek in 1879 and was a member of that church for more than fifty years and said that he had missed but few Sundays in such attendance during the first forty years.

He was a member of the Fiscal Court of Fulton County and a Justice of the Peace for several terms, and was in favor of public improvement and public convenience. The first short levee on the State Road at Mud Creek bridge was constructed while he was a member of the Fiscal Court about 1880. While a member of the Fiscal Court he advanced the suggestion and promoted the construction of the levee across the Little Boyon de Chien at Williamson bridge. He was always first in matters promoting the public welfare of his community. He was a large contributor to the support of the school and church.

He was born Jan. 24, 1841, after the election of William Henry Harrison as President of the United States and was given the name of the President, who was greatly admired by his father. His family is one of the oldest in Fulton County. His father, Capt. Benj. T. Davis, of the war of 1812 and mother, who was Susan Jordan, came from Powhatan County, Virginia, in 1822 and bought and settled on the old home farm near Rush Creek. The mother was a niece of Joseph Rogers, who had previously come from Virginia and settled in the county near the present town of Cayce. Both families had been prominent in the early affairs of Virginia.

Susanna Lutten, his wife, was the daughter of Dr. Sam B. Lutten, who was a very early settler at Moscow, and came from North Carolina but afterwards lived on a farm in Fulton County which is yet in the Lutten family. This Dr. Sam B. Lutten married Mary Ann Ashburn, a daughter of Henry Ashburn, who was one of the earliest settlers of the county who lived near Union Church, and who died in 1848.

REPORT OF HEALTH AND WELFARE LEAGUE

The Health and Welfare League, a local organization operating for the western part of the county met at the courthouse Monday evening. Mrs. Sims gave a report of calls made, treatments given, social welfare done, school work, etc.

A financial report was given by the secretary showing that the funds for nurse's salary, etc. are insufficient for a year's work. The present work has been supported by the local Red Cross, the Health and Welfare League from sale of seals, and the city school board for attendance officers' services and school inspection.

It is urged that a county board pool the funds from both parts of the county and from an amount promised by the state if those conditions are met with. This would enable the county to have four nurses at no more cost to the county than the services of the two now had. Fulton has for some time declared that their local board was ready with their funds and that they are waiting for Hickman.

At the Monday night meeting it was decided to campaign the town in order to supplement the funds on hand. Before this campaign can be put on the public spirited citizens are urged to attend a meeting at which Mrs. Sims will give a report of her work, information of plans and purposes will be set forth, and several short interesting speeches will be given.

Surely Fulton has no better, more public spirited citizens than has Hickman, yet they are five years ahead of us in this work, as they have had a nurse for nearly seven years, and would not be without the work for any consideration.

Don't fail to be present at the meeting Monday night.

$800,000 RAISE ON FULTON COUNTY

Taxes Have Almost Doubled in Last 3 Years Through These Raises.

News was received here this week that the State Tax Commission had raised the tax assessment for Fulton County again, this time the increase amounting to $800,000.

Increases in the assessment of the property of this county seem to have become a habit with this august body during the past three years. So much so that their estimation of the valuation of Fulton County property has been almost doubled during the past three year period. Three years ago the assessment was about $7,000,000. This year's $800,000 raise brings the last assessment up to over $11,000,000, an increase of over $5,000,000.

So unjust did this last raise seem to the Fiscal Court, which was in session yesterday that a delegation, headed by County Judge E. J. Stahr left yesterday morning for Frankfort to meet with the State Tax Commission and enter a serious protest against such action by those officials.

T. E. BARBOUR FOR JAILER

Well Known Hickman Man Would Serve People in Important Office.

We announce this week the name of T. E. (Ed) Barbour, a well known citizen of this county, as a candidate for the office of Jailer of Fulton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 6, 1921.

Mr. Barbour is a man who is both well known and well liked by all who know him, and his acquaintance extends throughout a great part of this county, having lived here for the past seven or eight years.

Mr. Barbour as a man stands along with all good men in behalf of good morals and good citizenship. He is an honest and hard working man, and he thinks he knows the duties which devolve upon the Jailer of Fulton County. He believes in keeping the jail and the court house and its precincts sanitary and inviting condition general public, and he promises the people that he will fill the office to the very best of his ability.

He has been a Jailer for a number of years before in his life, but before election day he will try to see every voter in Fulton County and submit his claims, and he respectfully asks the support and influence of all the voters in the county.

W. S. SEAT FOR JAILER

Popular Critchfield Man Throws Hat Into Ring.

We are authorized to announce this week that W. S. (Shup) Seat of Critchfield, is a candidate for the office of Jailer of Fulton County. His candidacy is subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 6, 1921.

Mr. Seat is well known all over the county and has had much encouragement to make the race for this office. He was born and reared in this county, and numbers his friends by the hundreds. He has many qualifications for the office which he seeks, and if elected, we feel sure would make a good official. He has always done yeoman service for the Democratic party, and has been ready at all times to do what he could to advance the party's interests.

Between now and the end of the primary Mr. Seat will make a thorough canvass of the county and will endeavor to see all voters in person. In the meantime he asks that all voters refrain from pledging support to any candidate until he has had an opportunity to set forth his claims. We are confident that he can put up some excellent claims for the office which he seeks, and we ask the voters to give him a chance to give his claims.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week a Woman's Club, by which name it will be known, was organized at the court house, the election of officers taking place and a discussion of the topics that would be undertaken by this new club. The club will be affiliated at once with and become a member of the State Federation of Clubs and will undertake the different lines of work carried on by different clubs. They will study and give their support to civic uplift, child welfare, health and welfare league, and co-operate with other public improvements and ideas as well as the cultural side. This club will meet every two weeks, on Wednesday afternoon and for the time being at the court house, and at the next meeting, which will be Wednesday afternoon, March 9th, at 2:30, the plans will be perfected and every thing gotten in readiness for their course of study and work. The following were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Inez Lutten, president; Mrs. T. T. Swayne, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Fleming, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry White, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. E. J. Stahr, treasurer. The club now has about 25 members. This is a good move and they will undertake an excellent line of work.

Will You Stick?

"This Farm Bureau takes some too much," said a Nebraska merchant to several farmers gathered in his store. "Country does not right, but putting up for a lot of state and national money is different. You don't know how they spend your money."

"Let's see, don't retail farmers have both state and national organizations?" asked one farmer.

The merchant colored, but admitted they had. The farmer asked if he belonged to any of them.

"That's my business," answered the merchant.

"Yes, and I guess the Farm Bureau is my business," spoke up another farmer. "I haven't joined it before, but I'm going to now. If a national organization is a good thing for merchants and business and manufacturers, it's a good thing for farmers, too."

This story has its humor, but it is everywhere. There are many who believe all supported money is spent as effective work for their neighbors. Every big business has such a national organization, through Farm Bureau Food specialists believe in organization for themselves, but not for the farmers. They hope you will quit the Farm Bureau.

Our advice to you is to study the Farm Bureau Federation. It is proceeding steadily and wisely. It already has accomplished some fine results. It will accomplish many more if still more farmers get back.

It is not easy work of it. Take a tip from the members of the big national business organizations—they are.

The farmer needs a national weekly, but he needs a national weekly. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the only one that requires no subscription and important news articles are gathered from all parts of the country. ## SELECTING BEST BEEF CALF Animals Must Have Proper Conformation, Breed Type and Good General Appearance.

If the beef calf selected for raising is to develop into a useful profitable individual for breeding purposes it must be a good calf as well as the descendant of good ancestors. Keep in mind that you are either selecting a calf for a herd bull or for a foundation breeding cow. To be classed as a good calf it must have the proper form, which is sometimes spoken of as "type" or "conformation." If you expect to select a calf with these necessary requirements you should become familiar with them. Study pictures of famous animals, note their form. A score card of the breed you are most interested in would be useful. Learn the different parts of a beef animal and the method of examination in judging them.

In selecting the calf, first get an idea of its general appearance. This you may do by looking at it from a distance of from 10 to 15 feet, observing its weight or growth according to age, conformation, quality, condition, body, breed type, and general disposition. Observe it closely, beginning at the head and neck, then forequarters, body, and hindquarters, in order named. If a bull is selected, it should not have the appearance of a heifer or a steer, but the strong, virile, masculine appearance of a bull in every detail. If a heifer is selected, she should have the feminine appearance of a good breeding cow rather than the possible coarseness or roughness of a steer.

Thus observing the calf without putting your hands on it, select one that is stylish and active. When viewed from the front it should have a short face, large muzzle, wide forehead, short neck, and a wide, deep chest, indicating a strong, vigorous constitution. When looked at from the side its back should be straight and level from top of shoulders to the tail. It should have a deep body and smooth, round quarters. When viewed from the side it should present a wide, deep chest. While as much width as possible is desired, it should not be accompanied with roughness about the shoulders and the tips of hocks. The legs should be rather short, stout, and set wide apart. A calf that stands high from the ground, cut up in the flank, and shallow in the heart girth, has little chance of developing into a useful or profitable breeding animal.

After you have found a calf with good general appearance, have someone hold it so that you can put your hands on it. This is the best way to determine what are called "condition" and "quality." Condition means the amount of flesh and fat the calf has. Select a calf in good growing condition, but not excessively fat. The best calf for breeding purposes should have great depth of natural flesh and be free from roughness or coarseness in any way. By running the open hand along the back and sides with a slight pressure of the finger tips the amount and quality of condition may be determined. A calf in proper growing condition, while not possessing the depth of flesh of a mature animal, should have a smooth, even covering of firm though not hard flesh along its back and sides and over the shoulders.

Quality may be determined by the eye of the experienced judge, but the hand may also be used to advantage. All the following indicate quality: A thick coat of hair that feels soft and silky and looks glossy; a loose, pliable skin that does not seem thick, rough, or tightly stretched over the body; or tightly short legs that appear to have strong, clean bones without roughness or coarseness.

A calf showing early maturity, as indicated by the tendency to put on an even covering of rather firm flesh, is desirable.

Color is of little importance as long as the calf selected has the approved color of the breed desired. There are, however, popular shades and color markings of the different breeds, which you will learn from further study of the breed selected.

COMMON SHEEP SCAB CAUSES

Ailment May Be Differentiated From Conditions Caused by Pesticides, Ticks or Lice.

Common sheep scab may be differentiated from conditions caused by other parasites, such as sheep ticks, common ticks and lice by finding the parasite and by the nature of the lesion. If the itching is caused by ticks an examination will reveal the ticks.

$40,000 FIRE AT TIPTONVILLE

Flames Originating in Office Bldg. Damage Three Business Houses.

Fire originating in an office building Saturday morning in the office of Dr. E. T. Kelly at Tiptonville, resulted in a loss of approximately $40,000 to five Tiptonville business houses.

The biggest loss was sustained by the clothing firm of Morris & Johnson, whose stock and building were damaged to about $30,000. The Tipton Mercantile Company sustained a loss of approximately $3,000. A grocery establishment belonging to Jim Naffelt was damaged to the extent of about $2,000. Several other business places sustained small losses in the burning. The cause of the fire is not known.

A fire engine, a volunteer fire company, and a fire truck were slightly injured when they tried to extinguish the fire.

With proper loss covered a position in the Mercer Company office, taking the place of Marshall McDaniel, resigned.

M. J. Hutton at Tipton, was in the city Thursday.

CONDEMN H.G.H. PRICED STOCK FOODS

Prominent Hog Raiser Says Prices Charged Are Unwarranted—Makes His Own Hog Food, With Better Results.

"For some time through paying fancy prices for stock foods and hog remedies and that he is raising some of the best hogs ever produced on the market," was the statement made recently by E. H. Henson, well known hog raiser and promoter of live stock.

Mr. Henson's hogs are the envy of the neighbors, and have topped the market for several years in town. He has been raising hogs for years, but he is not through paying extravagant prices for what he can make himself. He states that what the hogs need are minerals, and tells the secret of his wonderful success by explaining that he makes about five pounds of ordinary minerals (which is pure concentrated minerals and cost only a couple of dollars) and mixes same with corn meal or other to make a hundred pounds. All hogs, and especially brood sows, should have these minerals as they keep them from becoming weak, and in the pink of condition, and are essential to the hog's growth and a well balanced ration. The inexpensive mixture placed in a shallow box where the hogs can get at it as they need it, will produce far better results than any high priced so-called stock foods.

Send two dollars to The Mineraline Chemical Co., 1628 North Wells St., Chicago, Ill., and they will forward you by parcel post enough mineraline to make a full hundred pounds. (Adv.)

SEASONABLE FOODS.

The following is a different way of serving ham, making a dish which is a whole meal, served in one dish.

Baked Ham With Vegetables.
—Take a slice of ham cut an inch thick; place in a casserole and around it place two Bermuda onions sliced, two tomatoes, sliced on the same amount of minced tomato, one-half cup of water. Cover and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Spiced Bread Crumb Pudding.—Take one cup of bread crumbs, four tablespoons of sugar, one-fourth of a cup of milk, one-half cup of oil, one-half cup of raisins, one-half cup of cinnamon, one-half cup of cloves, two tablespoons of molasses, one teaspoon of soda and three-fourths of a cup of butter. Soak the bread crumbs in the milk one-half hour.

Combine the sugar and sugar together and add the molasses and flour and beat the eggs and soda. Add the raisins, then add to the bread crumbs and milk. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold. This may be well served eight.

Chestnut Salad.—Shred one pound of chestnuts, beat until tender and reduce the skins, being careful not to break the nuts. While hot pour over the nuts one-fourth of a cupful of French dressing and set away to mar-inate for two hours. Add one tablespoonful of pure de fois gras to one-half cupful of mayonnaise. Mix with the chestnuts and serve on lettuce.
Serve very cold.

Potato Dumplings.—Grate potatoes and drain in a cheese-cloth; squeeze out the liquid and let it settle. Drain off carefully and add the starch which has settled in the grated potato. Season, shape into balls the size of walnuts, cook in boiling water 15 minutes. Serve with hot butter fat or brown butter poured over them.
These may be served with crisp rolls of bread as a garnish for a luncheon dinner.

TURKISH MONTH OF FASTING
Ramadan, a Time of Trial to Moslems, Who Are Forced to Obey Laws of the Koran.

Ramadan is a month of trials to all classes of Moslems, especially to laboring men, who are supposed to go without food, drink and tobacco from sunset to sunrise.

Turkish restaurants are watched carefully by Mohammedan policemen, who are instructed to arrest outsiders and owners alike if any of the followers of Allah violate the laws of the Koran. Consequently Christian restaurants and especially those which have private rooms, become very popular with the Mohammedans during the 28 days which are supposed to be given over to fasting and prayer.

Box guns are fired in Constantinople to indicate sundown, and the rush of Turks to coffee houses and restaurants approaches a riot.

During Ramadan the followers of the great prophet are not supposed to drink water during daylight hours.
Fasting makes the Turks so irritable and impatient that it is extremely difficult to transact business with them.
Ramadan is a less trying period to Turkish men and women who are unemployed, as they merely sleep through the day and turn night into a time of feasting.

STOMACH TROUBLE.
GASES, INDIGESTION

"Bape's Diapiesin" is the quickest, surest relief for Indigestion, Gases, Flatulence, Heartburn, Sourness, Fermentation of Stomach Distress caused by acidity. A few tablets give almost immediate stomach relief and shortly the stomach is corrected so you can eat favorite foods without fear. Large case costs only few cents at a drug store.
Millions helped annually.

Mummies Should Be Confined.
A professor of bacteriology in the Northwestern university found that mummies are a source of germ incubation, and death and destruction is likely to lurk in the household that has a mummy in its bric-a-brac department. Keep your mummies incubated.

WELL KNOWN IN HOME STATE

James T. Duane, Commander of Massachusetts Department, Known to Many of His Buddies.

James T. Duane, commander of the Massachusetts department of the American Legion, is perhaps better known to the Legions in his state than any other Legion officer.
He is said to have retired from the 100th former service men and women during the time he was head of the Boston division of the Massachusetts state treasury department, where he had charge of the distribution of the state bonds.

When Mr. Duane retired for France with the 100th state division, he was a private, which he returned to America after participating in almost every major offensive of the war. He was the captain of the company with which he was sent overseas as a private. He had also served as a first lieutenant commander for a time during the Argonne campaign.

Mr. Duane has been a recent sign-man in Massachusetts and New York, a member of the American Legion profession and a general manager for an electric and gas company. During his career as a state official, he was in charge of the department of $20,000,000 in gratuities to veterans of the war.

As a member of the state welfare and post activities and state executive committees of the Massachusetts department of the Legion, Mr. Duane was instrumental in blocking the proposed transfer of ex-service mental patients to the old State insane asylum at Worcester, Mass., and in the establishment of a permanent staff of teachers in the various Public Health Service hospitals.

RULES IN SOUTH CAROLINA
G. Howard Mahon, Jr., Elevated to Department Commander of Legion in Home State.

Although G. Howard Mahon, Jr., of Greenville, S. C., commander of the South Carolina department of the American Legion, was severely wounded in action,
spent long months
in French, English and American hospitals and was discharged with disability, he has taken a prominent part in the organization of the Legion and in civic affairs of his state.

Mr. Mahon is now president of the Young Men's Business League of Greenville. Following his discharge from the hospital, which did not occur until April 3, 1920, he was elected commander of his home-town post and later department commander of the Legion.

Having attended the "Chadef" military school, Mr. Mahon developed an interest in military affairs at an early age. He was in command of the First battalion, 115th Infantry from the time it was organized until he was wounded when the Thirtieth division routed the Boches at Bellecourt.

TO HOLD CORDIAL RELATIONS
Legion Representatives in Attendance at Recent Formation of Inter-Allied Veterans' Association.

American Legion representatives took an active part in the formation of the Inter-Allied Veterans' Association in Paris recently. The association is composed of delegates from the Union Nationale des Combattants de France, the Comrades of the Great War of Great Britain, the Federation Nationale des Combattants de Belgique, the Associazione Nazionale Combattenti d'Italia, Druzina of Czechoslovakia and the American Legion.

The primary purpose of the organization is to preserve the cordial relations between the nations associated in the war on the allied side. As one means of accomplishing this it is proposed that the membership card of each society shall be recognized by the societies in all the nations represented in the association.

The delegates who attended the Paris conference have been instructed to report back to their respective organizations the details of the amalgamation. Paris was merely the starting point, from which veterans of the World War may form their own League of Nations.

The committee which represented the American Legion at the Paris conference included Cabot Ward and Arthur W. Kipling of Paris Post No. 1; Norman C. Coster, department adjutant of France; E. Sadler and W. H. A.
Coleman of London post; Edmond L.
Gros, George A. Dunagin and E. J.
Seligman.

Habitual Constipation Cured
in 14 to 21 Days
"LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN" is a specially-prepared Syrup Tonic-Laxative for Habitual Constipation. It relieves promptly but should be taken regularly for 14 to 21 days to induce regular action. It Stimulates and Regulates. Very Pleasant to Take. 60c per bottle.

Every fire truck in Shanghai, China,

To the Public

WE BIT OFF MORE THAN WE CAN CHEW

I am up against it; that's the story in a nutshell. I bit off more than I can chew. The present financial stringency has greatly retarded my business. With the cotton market in a demoralized condition—and as my business depended upon this growing industry—I can do what is left to be done. Place my magnificent stock at the public's mercy and sell at any price in order to reimburse the clamoring creditors. This sale will start Saturday, March 5, at 9 o'clock. Come and Save.

Suit Cases FREE

Starving China's Cry

(This picture is copyrighted by Underwood & Underwood)

"CHINA'S MADONNA OF MISERY" Drawn and lithographed by Henry S. B. Smith as a poster contribution to the China Relief Fund. (Caption) China's Cry: "Please Help!"

MORE than 100,000,000 persons in the five famine-stricken provinces of north central China are starving and dying from lack of food.

They have no money and a bad harvest. The famine is the worst in the history of China.

The Chinese government has asked for help from the United States.

PUT ON PAYING POST SHOW

Fred W. Dralle, Casper, Wyo., Successfully Served as General Manager of "Stampede."

Fred W. Dralle of Casper, Wyo., chairman of the state executive committee of the American Legion, gained national recognition for his home-town post of the Legion, as general manager of "Stampede" which cost $20,000 to stage and which added $3,000 to the post treasury.

Mr. Dralle taught school at Butte, Mont., and later was superintendent of schools at Roundup, Mont. He served for a term as clerk and recorder of Musselshell county, Mont., and is now an officer in the Standard Refinery of Casper.

Although he was 36 years old when the United States entered the war, Mr. Dralle enlisted in the Central Machine Gun Officers' Training school and was stationed at Camp Hancock, Ga.

WHEN TO WEAR THE UNIFORM

Former Service Men Inclined to Be Too Modest in Appearing in Army Togs.

Further service men are too modest to appear in uniform on special occasions, according to a letter from a member of the American Legion.

The letter follows:

"Armistice day brought with it some new revelations of viewpoint on the wearing of the uniform at ceremonies and celebrations, and, inasmuch as in the future we must confront the problem time after time, I believe the question should be settled now, one way or the other. I am neutral on the subject and am willing to do as the 'bunch' does."

"Since their discharge the majority of both officers and enlisted men have shown more than a little hesitancy in putting the uniform back on for special occasions. The true spirit of the Legion is not manifest in any parade when the majority of the men appear in civilian clothes and a handful march in uniform. On such occasions the uniformed man is in an embarrassing position, and he vows: 'Never again!' I think modesty is responsible for most men's preference for 'civvie' on formal occasions, but I know that some argue that they do not want to be in uniform with a bunch of men wearing officers' uniforms and insignia."

"I am sure there is not an ex-officer in the Legion who would not willingly discard his insignia if it operated as a barrier to harmony. But let's have a standard rule—either civvies or uniforms."

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Bayer

Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headaches, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Drugists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic-acidester of Salicylicacid.

Paper Collar Protects Plants. A collar of paper has been made for protecting the stems of delicate plants after they have been placed in the ground. These are often attacked by the cut worm, which cuts them off short and kills the plant, but the worm cannot get through the paper collar.

No Worms in a Healthy Child. All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Weak, Nervous, All Run-Down

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.33

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.33

A story in The Courier from Private First Class Harry M. Probst, Company 1, 1st Field Signal Battalion, reports that his company was presented a cup for the best company in its regiment and that he stood among the best drilled men in his company. He also says that he expects to leave Germany Feb. 20, sailing from Antwerp, and will arrive in New York about March 5. He was one of the first to visit from the neighboring town of Woodland Mills.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford car can well be called the "people's car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it. Let us have your order for one now to avoid delay in delivery.

American Fence

On account of the financial condition, and our having to carry over so many accounts and notes from last year, we are going to sell American Fence for cash only, and we are going to make a special price on certain sizes, in order to help out in the low prices that the farmers are receiving for their products.

We are making some special offers for the cash in implements right at this time, and it will pay you to investigate our prices.

In order not to embarrass any one, if you wish to open an account with us this year, will kindly ask you to call and see us about the matter.

WAS NOT BODY OF VANCE BOY.

A story of the discovery of a boy's body in a brush pile on the Arkansas side of the river from Memphis was carried in Saturday's Commercial Appeal. From appearances the boy had been brutally slain and his body thrown into the brush pile and covered up to prevent discovery. According to the description of the body as given in the Commercial Appeal some of the features corresponded with those of the young son of Charles Vance who left home several weeks ago, and has not been heard from since. The boy's father, or left immediately for Memphis to ascertain, if possible, whether this was his son's body or not. He found, however, that this body was not that of his son, greatly relieving the minds of both parents, who feared that some violence had befallen their son.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

West Hickman Baptist Church, Hickman, Ky., February 23, 1921.

Whereas, The Grand Master of the universe in His infinite wisdom and with His heart full of sympathy, regarded man's suffering condition and desiring it expedient did on the 28th day of January, permit to our beloved Brother Bozeklik Lamistus theodimon, given to those who have served their time, "It is enough, the task is done, come thou from earth away." Now be it:

Resolved: That we acknowledge the omnipotence of the "Giver of Life" and say "Thy will be done."

Resolved: That in the death of Bro. Lamistus one that we all loved and honored as a true Christian and deacon will be missed by the Church. The community has been robbed of one of its best and noblest citizens, home is no longer cheered by a loving husband, a kind father and an indignant grandfather, and the Church has lost one of its most ardent supporters.

A precious one from us has gone.
A voice is vacant in our Church.
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
His life which He had given.
His home as a bright star
And now waits for us in heaven.

Resolved: That we extend to the bereaved family our condolence and sympathy; and be it further

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be printed upon our record book, one furnished to the family of Bro. Lamistus.

POSTAL RULING TO BE CHANGED

Harding Will Amend Regulations to Give Postmasterships to G. O. P.

One of Warren G. Harding's first acts as President of the United States will be to rescind the order of President Wilson placing all postmasterships under protection of the civil service.

Mr. Harding will hold that postmasters should control in the appointment of postmasters, but he does not believe the Democrats, who have been placed in the postmasterships during the last eight years should be proportional in office.

Mr. Harding contends that only one class of postmasters be appointed or removed under civil service. This is a matter of great importance.

President Wilson came to the conclusion after several years of office that by doing efficient service all postmasters should be made permanent government officials, subject to dismissal only for cause and entitled to serve until they saw fit to resign.

A lot of influential Republicans are inclined to agree with the Wilson plan of protecting the postmasters from a political scramble every four years, but they say this protection should not take effect until most of the officials are filled by deserving members of the G. O. P.

They say that if Mr. Wilson had been in earnest about bettering the postal service through civil service protection, he should have issued the order when he first came into office instead of waiting until desiring Democrats had vacated all of the desirable places.

They declare that a vast number of postoffice appointments made by William H. Taft during the last administration at his term as President were held up by the Democrats in the Senate, and the places thus offered were filled by Democrats.

This has accounted for the fact that some 2,200 postoffice appointments made recently by Mr. Wilson have been held up by the Republican Senate, despite the fact that these appointments have been made only after civil service examinations.

After Mr. Harding comes into office these several thousand postoffice appointments will be exhausted.

Where Republicans have been named and can show their loyalty to the party and their acceptability to the Congress, many of their districts and the Senators of their State, they may be named.

Already Mr. Harding has had called to his attention the cases of many Republicans who have won postmasterships under the Wilson civil service arrangement and who are afraid now that they will be thrown out under a Republican Administration.

From present indications all Democrats whose names have been sent to the Senate after examination for postmasterships of the so-called Presidential classes will be excluded from further consideration and their places will be taken by workers in the political realm.

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE.

The following article, reprinted from the Harlan Enterprise, was submitted to the A. C. League.

In the trial of Dr. H. C. Winnes, assistant state veterinarian, and one who doubt be of interest to some of our readers, Dr. Longmeyer was summoned as a witness for the defense at this trial.

But for the fact of his tragic fatality, the trial of Dr. H. C. Winnes, for the murder of Miss Lura Pearson last September, which has occupied the Court for nearly two weeks, would be a farce.

At the time this is written the jury has been out nearly four days, spending eleven for acquittal and one for conviction from the first ballot.

The case as made out by the Commonwealth was one of the weakest ever submitted to a jury. Nothing absolute nothing was ever produced to show that Dr. Winnes had any connection with the fact that he, on his horse for the State Board of Health, went over the trail about an hour after Miss Pearson's fall and that he inquired while at the school about the teacher who had presided him.

The black spot and disgrace of the whole horrible business has been the covering up of the actions of the prison guards and convicts on that day and days preceding the tragedy, as well as when the body was found.

Evidence of a confession on the part of negro convicts has been covered up; the fact that negro convicts roamed at will over the trail and at least five or six were loose on the trail at the time it happened, was deliberately suppressed the day the body was found and Sheriff Howard was endeavoring to get at the facts.

All manner of damaging admissions have been made and practically proven against the prison camp, yet not a move made by the prosecutor in charge of the case to bring out these facts.

Even one of the convicts against whom damaging evidence has been public property for weeks, is serving a long-time sentence for just such a crime.

Dr. Winnes proved by dozens of prominent people—men and women—from all over the country, his many long years of upright living and conduct, and with not a shred of evidence against him, is presented and persecuted, humiliated and damned, while the real perpetrators are being covered and protected.

Now that the boards are cleared, we believe that Commonwealth Attorney J. S. Forester will assume charge again and go to the Governor if necessary, and compel state officials who should have been the first ones to lay down the bars to a full and free investigation, to fasten the crime where it belongs.

Every official in Harlan county has been hampered in his investigation at every turn, and it is now high time that public sentiment should step in and help them compel the true facts to be made public.

C. M. Miller and daughter, Miss Hazel, returned to their home in Sturgeon, Mo., last Wednesday after several weeks' visit with Jno. Sexton and wife.

S. A. BASSETT FOR MAGISTRATE

Prominent and Well Known Farmer Asks for Important Office.

S. A. Bassett makes a formal announcement through the columns of The Courier this week of his candidacy for the office of magistrate of district No. 3. His candidacy is subject to the action of the Democratic primary in August.

Mr. Bassett is a prominent and progressive farmer living in the Montgomery School House neighborhood, living on what is known as the Stahl farm. He has been a resident of Fulton County for the past sixteen years, and is well known throughout not only this important district but in the whole county.

He is making his candidacy upon the urgent solicitation of his numerous friends, and wishing to serve his fellow citizens in some way, he announces for this important office. He has at all times supported the Democratic candidates and has never before asked for any preferment in a political way.

Mr. Bassett pledges himself to develop and maintain the roads of the district and the county and to uphold the wishes of his constituency as far as he may be possible. He believes that living where he does he will be in a most centrally located place and will in this way be aided in attending to his duties as a member of the Fiscal Court.

The office of magistrate is one of the most important in the county, although yielding but small emolument, and Mr. Bassett asks that the voters of this district consider his claims for the office and keep him in mind on August 6.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Alonzo H. Lee, the affable proprietor of the Woodlawn dairy, and one of the older citizens of this city, entertained a few of his friends Monday evening with a six o'clock dinner at his home near Hickman, the occasion of the celebration being his seventieth birthday. An excellent dinner had been prepared by his estimable wife, and according to those in attendance, the table was "loaded down from one end to the other with good things."

Those enjoying Mr. Lee's hospitality were Messrs. Julian Thorne, A. R. Stone, F. H. Moore, S. L. Royster, J. J. Spay, J. C. West, W. C. Spear and Dr. H. B. Johnston.

Before the heavy snow there was much plowing between here and Fulton and much below town, and work has again been resumed, getting everything in readiness for early planting. The crops, no doubt, will this year be more diversified than they have been before for years and the cotton average will be out to a good extent.

Since the river started falling it has gone down at the rate of a little better than a foot a day until the first of the week, and there is no indication of a flood now. The river is what would be called a good stage but considering the time of the year it is not high.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

Affiant, W. J. Fields, after having been duly sworn, states, that the following described animals, to-wit: One black muley heifer calf, no marks, and one red heifer calf little horns about one inch long, no marks, worth about $25.00, were taken up by him as strays on his premises about seven miles east of Hickman, near the Roper School House, in Fulton county, and that Charles Roper, resident and property owner of Fulton County, Kentucky, being duly sworn appraises said animals at $25.00, and E. J. Stahr, Judge of Fulton County, values same at $25.00, wherefore, it is ordered that this notice be recorded by the County Court Clerk in a book kept for that purpose and said Clerk is directed to furnish an Attest Copy to the Hickman Courier for publication, and to post one on the Court House door.

DUTY.

Could I but do one worthy deed,
Or write one fitting line
To fill the measure of my need—
Could I but sow one fruitful seed,
Then were contentment mine.
Could I but sing one living song
To banish mortal pain,
Could I but right one crying wrong
Or help one weaker soul along,
I had not lived in vain.

So vast the universe, so cold
The peaks to which we climb,
So gray the skies, the stars so old!
So many sheep strayed from the fold
And so swift fleeting Time!
Strive as I may, somehow it seems That each succeeding sun
Finds me yet distant from my dreams
On paths rock strewn, with swollen streams.

And no day's journey done!
Yet must I carry on the fight,
Still I must do my best,
So, when I pass from out the night
Into the day, into the light,
My weary soul may rest!

A Successor.

No, Tom Sawyer is not dead. Or at least he has a worthy successor in eight-year-old Joseph McKee, one of whose duties is to keep the home lawn clean.

Several of the children in his neighborhood had been anxious to have a Halloween party, and Joseph's mother told him that he might have one. "You can have them mask and we'll have Jack-o'-lanterns and witches, and dance and—" she began.

But Joseph interrupted her. "Mother," he spoke earnestly, "I'd rather have a wiener roast. They can rake up all the leaves on the lawn and the trash in the garden and burn them to a bonfire and roast wieners. They'd be helping me while they had fun, too."—Indianapolis News.

CHAMP CLARK DIED
NOON YESTERDAY

Was Born in Kentucky Seventy-One Years Ago.

Washington, March 2.—Champ Clark, representative from Missouri, died today at noon, after a brief illness of pleurisy. Hope for his recovery had practically been abandoned earlier in the day.

Mr. Clark lacked only two days of serving out 20 years in Congress. With in two days, his term would have ended.

For many years he had been a towering figure in Democratic circles.

In the Democratic National Convention in Baltimore in 1912 Champ Clark led on twenty-seven ballots for the nomination as candidate for president, and had a clear majority in nine ballots, prior to the final naming of Woodrow Wilson. The third rule of the convention alone prevented Mr. Clark's nomination. The honor which his party thus paid him was the most notable of all his public life. In American political history Martin Van Buren was the only other man who failed of the Democratic nomination for presidency after having received a majority of the votes in the national convention but he enjoyed the unique distinction of being elected subsequently.

William J. Bryan's sensational attack on Mr. Clark at Baltimore, charging him with being affiliated with lead and representing the "interests" held the convention in deadlock for more than a week when it ended in the nomination of Mr. Wilson.

The failure of his candidacy at Baltimore never ceased to be the disappointment of Mr. Clark's life. He returned the nomination as vice-president and told the House on the eve of his defeat that he preferred to remain as speaker.

Although Champ Clark was known as a Missourian, he was born in Anderson, Kentucky, on March 7, 1850. He was christened James Buchanan Clark but early in life he reduced this to Champ Clark. His first work was as a farm hand then in a general store and on a country newspaper.

He was educated at Kentucky University and at Kentucky college, and the Cincinnati Law school. In 1875 he moved to Missouri where he took up the study and practice of law and became prosecuting attorney in Pike County. His next step was into the Missouri legislature, where he framed the Missouri Primary law and anti-trust statute and an Australian ballot law.

He was first sent to the national forum in 1882. Although then regarded as "green" his strength in the House developed rapidly. When John Sharpe Williams left the House for the Senate, Representative Clark was made minority leader by virtue of his tenacity on the Ways and Means Committee which drafted the Payne-Adams tariff bill.

Mr. Clark's sincerity, friendship for opponents and adherents alike, his business as a presiding officer and his knowledge of history, his love of clean finances and his memory of the national forum in 1882, all contributed to his leadership. He was a man of great energy and after ousting of Cannon which robbed the speakership of many of its powers, he divided with majority leader Underwood the control of the Democrats in the House and they formed a great working team.

Physically he was a giant of a man, standing over six feet two inches in height and weighing a trifle more than 200 pounds.

THE COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

By O. L. Cunningham, Hickman, Ky.

SEE IF IT WILL GERMINATE.

It will be a mighty good investment and time well spent to find out what sort of seed corn you have. A missing bill means an ear lost, a kernel that has a weak sprout means a nibble or no ear at all. One bad ear planted means from 400 to 800 ears lost, a good penalty for carelessness. One bill missing is too much. A few hours work and you can test all the corn you will plant.

Purchased seed also pays. For good land use Boone or Johnson County White. For medium land Reids Yellow Dent is hard to beat. Other good strains are Noddy Paymaster, Iowa Silver Mine and St. Charles. I believe you should plant the largest corn your soils will mature. It is foolish however, to plant a big corn on a soil that only has enough plant food to mature a small variety.

The following parties have purchased corn: W. P. Clark, State Line; Ed Williamson, Fulton, and W. R. Bowen, Hickman, and Porter Harris, Fulton, have Boone County White; T. H. McMurry, Hickman, has purchased Johnson County White; Messrs. J. W. Mayes, Hickman, E. S. Erice, Gayce, and Rupert Browder have purchased Reids Yellow Dent.

The following men will run variety tests of 6 to 8 varieties this year to tell you next year what variety will yield the best on our soils. They are: Ed Thompson, John C. Lawson, Paul Bondurant, Tom Kelly, and Roscoe Stone.

Plant your corn early and avoid worms, frost and drought. Early corn yields more, is sounder and ready to harvest early.

Illinois Central System Passenger Trains Noted for Being on Time

The only recent check on the promptness of the Illinois Central passenger trains was made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its report for the year ending November 1, 1919. These figures are the only ones available for the Illinois Central system as a whole for the year.

ALL RAILWAYS	ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM
On time 95.3 per cent	95.3 per cent
Delayed 4.7 per cent	4.7 per cent
On time 95.3 per cent	95.3 per cent
Delayed 4.7 per cent	4.7 per cent

The following table shows the percentage of trains on time for the Illinois Central System for the year ending November 1, 1919.

Month	Percentage
January	95.4
February	95.1
March	94.9
April	94.3
May	94.2
June	94.1
July	93.9
August	93.8
September	93.7
October	93.5
November	93.0
December	93.8

Believing that the maintenance of service at destination on time is an essential factor in passenger train service, the Illinois Central System is working constantly to improve this phase of service. Maintenance of schedule, however, is but one feature of the incomparable passenger service offered by the Illinois Central System, every feature of which is constantly maintaining.

The equipment of the Illinois Central System, operating between Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans, represents the highest known standard of the art of passenger train construction. The Illinois Central System has been designated by its patrons as the "best train in the world."

Illinois Central System passenger trains are noted for the safety with which they are operated. More than three and one-half billion passenger miles have been covered one mile since a passenger riding in a proper position was injured fatally.

Another outstanding feature is the character of service rendered by Illinois Central trains—the courtesy and attention with which passengers are served, to which we are all great public.

Conscious of our obligations to the public, we are making every effort consistent with honest, efficient and economical management to render a service that will not only please our patrons but will justify them in commending it to their friends and acquaintances.

In its passenger service, in its all other departments of its organization, the Illinois Central System seeks the cooperation and confidence of its patrons.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,

President, Illinois Central System.

FARMERS OF NORTHWEST FIND RACING DOGS HELPFUL IN WORK

No longer does the big city dog show rule supreme as the sport where the true lovers of dogs may admire the blooded canines. Out in the west and the northwest a new winter sport is each year gaining in interest. Dog races which attract farmers, prospectors, town folks and Indians, Ashton, Idaho, last town on the way west to Yellowstone Park and the center of a wide and prosperous wheat, oat and potato district, is an example of the extent to which this sport has been developed. They are now making ready there for the annual races when men and boys of the district, free from crop duties, will enter and race their dog teams in the big classic. The upper picture shows a five-dog team of strong limbed animals entered by two Ashton boys. The lower sled team shows how the animals are used in farm work—in this picture the dogs, working double, hauling a load of hay. The head is of an ideal type developed for sled duty in the northwest.

P-T. A. Meeting.

The Parent-Teachers' Association met at the College Tuesday evening with a good number present. Several new members were added. We now have an enrollment of about 185, and we hope to reach the 225 mark soon. We decided to continue the hot lunches through the month of March. These lunches have been enjoyed by over 100 pupils each day and at the small sum of 10 cents, this warm lunch is both beneficial to the pupil and parent, and it does away with having to fix lunch before the child leaves home, and when one gets up late it is quite a task. Free lunches are given each day to children not able to pay.

The desks ordered by the Association will arrive soon and be installed. We had with us Mr. Butt, from Fulton who gave us an interesting talk on what Fulton is doing toward the Health and Welfare work. Enthusiastic talks were made by Miss Iuz Laton, Dr. H. E. Prather, J. O. West and others on the same subject.

A call meeting was arranged for next Tuesday p. m. at the Library, at which time we hope to discuss in round table fashion some very important business matters, and all members interested are requested to attend.

—Committee.

Mrs. Delbert Chong and Mrs. J. Mack Reid and little daughter, Jane, were in Union City Tuesday.

INTEREST FOCUSED ON BONDURANT

Developments at Rittenhouse Oil Well Eagerly Awaited.

After two years of anticipation with varying degrees of interest, we approach the "zero hour" in the bondurant oil game. It is the one momentous topic of conversation on the streets, in the home, about the shops. There is feverish interest and speculation as to the outcome of the Rittenhouse well of Bondurant, some nine miles west of Hickman.

About two weeks ago the drilling was stopped for the purpose of repairing a broken tool. The driller noted that it went out of gauge onto a rock formation at the time of the shut-down. When the drill stem and bit were brought out of the hole, he was surprised to find instead of a 9-inch square edge on the bit that it had worn to a triangular point of less than two inches, indicating an unusually hard formation encountered in the last few feet. This merely left the impression that good bit had been put in the "hole" and was considered of no significance. However, some 24 hours later, while the well was idle awaiting the repairs, a referred to, that one of the members of the firm noticed the well was giving off a rumbling noise which was followed a few seconds later by a hissing and spouting of mud and water into the air to a height of 50 or more feet. This occurred at three intervals, the first eruption lasting almost an hour. One conclusion could be reached, the well was gassing. It evidently came through the 2-inch hole made by the ground-off bit and from a stratum just barely punctured. In view of these developments, it was decided to set the casing before any further drilling.

The work of setting the casing was started last Saturday, but when some feet of the pipe were down, it was found that it would go no farther. The well was drawn out, the well reamed out a fraction larger and yesterday the reaming job was successfully completed. During the reaming process—the last few feet of it or when the tool reached the bottom of the well (which is 17 1/2 feet), considerable oil was reported to have been showing on the pipe and gas again in evidence. This was the first opportunity the well had of making a showing since the day of the big gassing, as the hole had been filled with heavy mud for the purpose of retaining the walls.

The zero hour has been reached. Probably Saturday the drill will go down what is expected to be oil sand, as the casing is to be set Friday. Three geologists, representing as many large oil companies, have visited the well this week. They admit that "things look good."

Several sleek, well-fed, prosperous-looking gentlemen, representing predatory wealth in no minor degree and the controlling interests of the United States oil business, are on the ground. They frankly admit they are here in the interests of their companies—which includes the Standard Oil, Gulf Refining Co., Louisiana Oil and Refining Co., Arkansas Natural Gas Co., Texas Oil Co., and others. Scouts, spotters, fence-sweepers and other forerunners of oil development are here in the role of gun-shine men, plying their avocation.

The arrival of so many "strange oil men" has been sort of a signal for an awakening among the local business men—who, up to the last few days, have been content with casual inquiries as to the progress of the well. They are now scurrying hither and thither trying to nail down a little acreage. Leases are being taken at anywhere from $1 to $10 an acre. Last year they could be bought for 50 cents. At no time since the drilling started in this section, several years ago, has interest been so keen as now. Everybody is "up in the air." The question of hard times is entirely from the fact when oil is actually found, becomes the topic of conversation. One business man on common sense, who occupies a 20x30 room, was offered $5000 for his room this week. An out-of-town con man, who rented a 10x10 floor space in the rear of the LaCade Hotel, offered at $75 a month. Two lease or purchase contracts have already been made. The expected emergency. The expected map artists are ready to set out at inflated prices, an oil map of the fields, embracing Bondurant Lake and its immediate surroundings.

The town of Bondurant, at the most extreme westerly position in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, a township of ten years, with a couple of dozen rapidly constructed houses, is being overlooked in the business development. An enterprising citizen of Tippecanoe is installing a picture show, another gentleman has just bought a lot on which he will erect a business building—30x60 feet—a place to hold by day and sleep by night. Jim H. Hunt is planning to enlarge his restaurant to meet the expected developments. Bondurant feels the weight of responsibility, because the well is just to the edge of this little city. Its fame has reached beyond the confines of the county, it has except once—it was the first light seen as being in the path of a destructive tornado, when several of its citizens were killed and injured. The probability of fortune may now swing to the other extreme—it may become a second Liberator, a mecca for millionaire and pauper, prince and peasant, featuring the lure of the oil.

All that is now needed is—oil. A small amount of the situation leads to the conclusion that both the prospectors and the layman expect it to come in when the drill gets another foot of wall. The representatives of the oil companies have faith enough to wait, and on a "watchful waiting" policy, they should not the layman have faith. All are anxious to see what is just beneath the earthy like rock, which has away the bit and from which gas came, to see nothing of the showing of oil that followed the cheating out of the hole yesterday. The penetration of this thick and mysterious bit of ground will be watched with intense interest.

Be it said to the credit of the operating company—Roney, Mitchell & Bruer—and the dealer, Mr. McDermott, they have given out no reports—pro or con—and would mislead the public. Only the facts have been given and from each man's most firm his or her own conclusions.

VESTER DAVIS STILL AT LARGE

Reward of $150 Offered for His Arrest and Conviction.

Vester Davis, one of the principals in the shooting scene of last Wednesday, in which Fred Evans was killed, is still at large. He made his escape after the crime was committed and his whereabouts have been unknown since then. It was reported unauthoritatively, that he spent the night in West Hickman and Thursday morning went to Oakton, between here and Clinton. It was learned that Davis purchased a ticket there for St. Louis and boarded the M. & O. northbound train at 11 o'clock. The conductor of the train was telegraphed to have him arrested at the first stop and St. Louis officials were wired to search the train upon his arrival. Nothing was found of Davis in either case, and evidently he left the train shortly after boarding it. A reward of $50 has been offered here for his arrest and Monday Governor Morrow offered an additional reward of $100, making a total reward of $150, which should have some effect in locating him.

Notice was received by Miss Clara McConnell on Tuesday of this week from Mrs. J. A. Phelps, in San Diego, Calif., announcing the death of her brother-in-law, John Edward Boswell, who died on Feb. 25, just a month after his wife's death, which occurred on Jan. 25th. Mr. Boswell spent several months with his wife here at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Phelps having here last fall for the benefit of his wife's health, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Phelps. He was about 70 years old and had been an invalid for the past fifteen years. They formerly lived at Somerville, Tenn., where they were well known and where he is survived by two or three brothers. Mr. Boswell was known to a number of people here on account of being an invalid and unable to walk, he was unable to get out while here, but made a number of friends.

Sulky Plow Economy

When you buy one of our John Deere Stag Sulky Plows, you buy no unnecessary parts. The Stag is all plow. Every one of its few parts aid directly in making it easier for you and the horses to do better plowing.

Because of its simplicity and great strength the Stag stays serviceable longer than any other plow of its type and requires fewer repairs.

Freedom from unnecessary parts, perfect balance and the absence of drag on the furrow bottom make the Stag the lightest running sulky plow. It does more work in the same time with less horse power.

The Stag has extreme clearance—four inches more than ordinary between beam and share point and six inches more than ordinary between front wheel rim and moldboard.

It is easy to operate the Stag—a boy can do it. By means of the landing lever, the operator can easily guide the plow around stones or other obstructions, or hold the plow on side hills, maintaining a full width cut.

The Stag's advantages have all been fully demonstrated. It is a favorite in all great farming sections because of its real economy. We want you to investigate these advantages.

Ask us to show you a John Deere Stag Sulky.

NOW AN EIGHT-WHEELED FIELD RUNABOUT

This is one of the newest members of the well-known Ford family. It is the field runabout. It is a strong-limbed boy—eight wheels dividing the work done by four before. It is a tractor which Secretary of War Baker was much interested in at the army exhibit in Washington. The broad caterpillar belt gives it a very firm footing under all kinds of soil conditions.

DANCED DEFIANCE TO DEATH

Fair Parisiennes With Bobbed Hair Held High Revels in the Days of the "Terror."

The most striking historical parallel to the bobbed-hair craze is to be found in the middle days of the French Directory, when many extremes flourished, relates the Kansas City Star.

The Parisienne was wearing a wig known as the peruke blond when the new bobbed coiffure came in. It was designated "a la victime" or "a la sacrifice," and demanded a cropping or a combing up of the hair at the back of the head into a wild tangle or disheveled locks over the forehead. With such a headpiece had Marie Antoinette and many another of the nobles of France gone to the guillotine just previously, for dawdling hair had been found to impede the swift descent of the knife.

That coiffure was quite the thing at the notorious and gruesome Bal des Victimes, a jolly little party the invitation list of which was limited to those who had lost a parent or some other near relative by the guillotine. The pleasure-mad throng which danced around the ballroom that night must have presented a weird and horrible scene. For each of the fair "victims" beside her close-cut, caught-up locks, wore as other details of her costume a scarlet ribbon bound around her throat and a blood-red shawl thrown over her shoulders.

OF COURSE THEY KNEW TOM

Absent-Minded Clergyman Neatly Extricated Himself From Somewhat Embarrassing Dilemma.

A clergyman, who at times has a rather defective memory, was one Sunday making the announcements for the coming week. He wanted to intimate that he would not be the preacher on the following Sunday, and that the pulpit would be occupied by his son-in-law, but at the last moment his memory went astray.

"In addition to the notices just read," he said, "I desire to say I shall not be preaching here next Sabbath. The pulpit will be occupied by—by—"

He faltered for a few seconds, then tried again.

"The preacher will be—" breaking off in exasperation. "Why, I know him quite well. You all know him. He married my daughter."

Then a smile broke over his face.

"Oh, I remember," he said, then went on, gravely. "Tom will preach here next Sunday."

INVENTIVE SCIENCE HELPS HARDING INAUGURAL ADDRESS

The inaugural crowd which President Harding faced could hear his message perhaps better than at any inaugural in the history of the nation. This was due to the wonders of modern invention. A series of electrical amplifiers were installed under the inaugural stand—shown under construction here—which made the address plainly audible to every person in the crowd, no matter if they were thousands of feet away. On the right is G. L. Wells, engineer, holding one of the amplifiers, the greatest "loud talker" yet invented, and which it is claimed intensifies sound one thousand billion billion times.

FULTON OFFICER KILLS HOTEL MAN

Mack G. Ryan Shot by J. I. Hamlett in South Fulton.

At 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in South Fulton, Mack G. Ryan was shot and instantly killed by J. I. Hamlett, police chief in South Fulton. Hamlett had gone to arrest Ryan on complaint of a Mrs. Watson that he was raising a disturbance at her home. Testimony before coroner's jury showed that when Hamlett got there he found Ryan threatening the woman with an eight inch trench knife, which he turned on the policeman when the latter commanded him to desist, and the officer fired to protect himself. Coroner's jury verdict was that deceased was shot in self-defense by officer in the discharge of duty. Ryan is said to have been drunk. He was proprietor of the Fulton Hotel and about 50 years old.

Purpose of Higher Education.
Why girls go to college is revealed by statistics dealing with the after careers of Barnard graduates. Of 2,095 living alumnae 58 per cent are holding paid positions, 30 per cent have married and only 12 per cent are neither married nor at work. As to the kind of occupation preferred, teaching, once the favorite pursuit of college-bred women, has lost caste. Since 1915 the percentage of graduates of Barnard engaged in teaching has dropped from 38 to 27. The figures show the girls go to college for serious purposes; that higher education for them is something for practical use as much as for ornament, and that considerably more than half of all the graduates of this college are self-supporting.

A QUERY.

"I say old top, why don't you get one of those hornless model talking machines?"

Immense Cake.

Eight hundred eggs, eighty pounds of flour and sixty-five pounds of sugar were among the ingredients used to make a mammoth cake which was presented to the founder of the San Francisco local of the United Commercial Travelers at the recent silver jubilee celebration of that organization. The cake was thirteen feet in circumference and weighed 354 pounds.

Device That Saves Gas.

A woman's invention to save gas at the gas range makes the weight of pot or kettle on the burner throw open a valve which permits the gas to burn full force, while with the removal of that weight the valve closes to a point where it cuts off all the gas except an amount barely sufficient to support a pilot light.

Chinks Changing Their Footwear.

The Chinese are gradually adopting the European style of footwear. At the present time almost 40 per cent of the footwear in China is reported to be of European make.

DEATH OF MRS. FANNIE CARUTHERS

Mrs. Fannie Caruthers, widow of the late Samuel Lawson Caruthers, died at the home of her son, Steve Caruthers, in Union City on Friday morning, Feb. 18, 1921, at 6 o'clock after a few weeks illness, resulting from an attack of diphtheria and an extended physical condition.

Mrs. Caruthers was the daughter of A. O. Cornum. She was born in the Eleventh civil district of Union County, Oct. 1, 1850. She was married in the early fall of 1870 to Mr. Caruthers, and the union was blessed with twelve children, four of whom preceded Mrs. Caruthers in their pilgrimage to another and better world. Mrs. Caruthers died in 1913, and a half sister, Mrs. Bettie Pickering, passed away a few months ago.

Mrs. Caruthers is survived by her children as follows: A. O. Lawson, Stephen, Perry, Essie and Sufie Caruthers, Mrs. E. M. Carter and Mrs. J. S. Barham.

Mrs. Caruthers was formerly a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. With her husband she united with the Methodist church in Union City. The family resided for many years in the old homestead north of Union City. Here Mrs. Caruthers was known for many of the delightfully pleasant neighborhood associations and personal kindnesses. She was a dear, good mother, sweet spirited, consecrated to God's service. She leaves with blessings to her children.

Services were conducted at the residence of Mr. Caruthers on East Clinton street Saturday morning, the 19th inst., with Rev. M. M. Thibault, Union City, in charge.

Burial was at East View Cemetery—Union City Commercial.
